

This month we highlight the impact of size and scale on design, feature an intriguing combination of materials for a standout rug, and introduce another delightful range of carpets combining the heritage of Missoni with the craftsmanship of Stark.

There are occasions when only a large scale design will fit the bill, and Beatrice is a great example of how to create a really striking carpet using oversized geometric patterns. Also available in grey or blue, it's woven using a traditional Brussels weave construction in 100% wool and available in a 3.66 metre width. Click here to see other geometric designs.

Banana silk combine with hand knotted wool to form this stunning combination rug; the sort of eclectic design you'd expect to stumble across in a Sunday flea market in Paris. Except it's available from stock.

Stark & Classic

Another product from Stark's continued collaboration with Missoni; the signature stripes form the basis of the chic Carioca design. There are three different colour combinations in the range, each produced from 100% wool and in flat pile construction.
